THE

BRITISH AND FOREIGN

EVANGELICAL REVIEW.

VOL. XXVI.

LONDON:
JAMES NISBET & CO., BERNERS STREET.
EDINBURGH: OLIVER & BOYD.
MDCCCLXXVII.

XUM

Edinburgh:
Printed by John Greig & Son.

CONTENTS OF VOL. XXVI.

NO. XCIX.—JANUARY 1877.

ORIGINAL ARTICLES:— Page

I. Mahommed and Mahommedanism. By the Rev. John Robson, D.D., Aberdeen 1

II. Genesis and its First Four Chapters. By the Rev. E. A. Thomson, Edinburgh 28

III. The Fruit of the Vine in Palestine. By the Rev. Peter Mearns, Coldstream 56

IV. John of Barneveld and the Synod of Dort. By the Rev. Principal Brown, D.D., Aberdeen 70

V. The Moral Argument for Christianity. By the Rev. John Gibb, London 114

VI. Vatican Influence in the Sixteenth Century. By C. P. Stewart, M.A., London 132

VII. The Doctrine of the Westminster Confession on Scripture. By the Editor 164

VIII. Unitarian Christianity in Creed and Worship. By the Rev. C. G. M'Crie, Glasgow 179

New Theological Publications 195

NO. C.—APRIL 1877.

ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—

I. Rambert's Life of Vinet. By the Rev. Professor Blaikie, D.D., Edinburgh 201

II. The Procession of the Spirit, in its Relation to the Division of the Eastern and Western Churches. By the Rev. Robert Sanders, B.D. 221

III. Age of the Pentateuch, with Special Reference to Revelation and Inspiration. By the Rev. Professor Macgregor, D.D. 254

IV. Lord Stair's "Vindication of the Divine Perfections." By A. Taylor Innes, Esq. 274

V. Comparative Religion an Apologetical Basis for Christian Doctrine. By the Rev. Professor Salmond, Aberbeen 290

VI. Extempore Preachers: Beecher, Parker, Spurgeon, and Talmage. By the Rev. W. R. Nicoll . . 310

VII. Formosa and the Gospel. By the Rev. Hugh Ritchie 329

VIII. Vatican Approval of the Massacre of St Bartholomew. By C. P. Stewart, Esq. 349

IX. Review of Literature on Church History in 1876. By the Rev. T. M. Lindsay, D.D. 366

Notices of New Books 391

NO. CI.—JULY 1877.

ORIGINAL ARTICLES:— Page

I. The Origin and Growth of Episcopacy. By the Rev. Professor Witherow, Magee College, Londonderry . 403

II. Baptism for the Dead. By the Rev. Paton J. Gloag, D.D. 430

III. Universal Restoration. By the Rev. John Mackenzie 444

IV. Michael Bruce and the Authorship of the Ode to the Cuckoo. By John Small, M.A. . . . 457

V. The Philistines. By the Rev. Professor John Campbell, M.A., Montreal 477

VI. The Sinai Covenant. By the Rev. R. G. Balfour . 511

VII. Daniel Deronda as a Sign of the Times . . . 527

VIII. Religious Life in Germany. By the Rev. J. C. Moore, Galway 554

IX. Review of Literature bearing on Apologetics in the last Eighteen Months 565

CURRENT LITERATURE:—

Old Testament Exegesis, 594; New Testament Exegesis, 594; Miscellaneous, 594.

NO. CII.—OCTOBER 1877.

ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—

I. The Consensus of the Reformed Confessions. By the Rev. Philip Schaff, D.D., New York . . . 599

II. The Testimony of Paul to Christianity, according to the Tubingen School. By the Rev. Alexander Mair, D.D., Morningside 624

III. Church Life in the Nineteenth Century—Geneva and Scotland. By the Rev. W. T. Ker, M.A., Deskford . 660

IV. On Revision of the Westminster Confession. By the Rev. Professor Macgregor, D.D., Edinburgh . . 692

V. Incarnation and Resurrection: the Essentials of Christianity. By the Rev. Robert Lorimer, Mains and Strathmartin 713

VI. The Place of the Psalms in Modern Apologetic. By the Rev. W. G Elmslie, Willesden . . . 726

VII. The Early Celtic Church: Its Doctrines and Constitution Examined and Compared with those of the Contemporary Catholic Church. By the Rev. John Wilson, Abernyte 755

VIII. The Study of the Old Testament in 1876. By the Rev. Professor W. R. Smith, Aberdeen . . 779

XUM